Do you want the union and co-workers to have your personal information?

Just by signing a union authorization card or petition, the union and its supporters will have access to a lot of personal information about you – information you may think should be personal and private.

If the union becomes your representative, it may have even more information about you, including your:

- Name
- Home address
- Social Security Number
- Signature
- Wage rate
- Access to your confidential human resources file, including your health and retirement benefit information
- Personal e-mail
- Personal phone numbers

Keep your personal information private,
